

donation-based vinyasa for all levels with Trine Husby

sunday march 17, 17:00-18:15

There are many special moments in a teacher's career. And our very first public class is one of them.

Come and celebrate with Trine the start of her teaching adventure by joining her all-level vinyasa class on sunday march 17th!

Trine has been a dedicated student of yoga for many years. This past half year, she's been working really hard on her teacher training with the Atman Yoga School, in collaboration with Terra. And she is now ready to offer her teachings to all of you. Make sure to register for this special class; we have only a limited number of spots!
